ORIGINS

The story of Royal Selangor goes back to 1885 when a young pewtersmith named Yong Koon sailed from the port of Shantou to Kuala Lumpur, a town then located in the tin rich state of Selangor. The discovery of tin in Malaya had lured him and thousands of other Chinese, to the fledgling tin mining town where he joined his brothers who had established themselves as tinsmiths.

In early years, Yong Koon made pewter incense burners, joss stick holders and candlestands for the altars of wealthy tin miners and Chinese temples. When demand for traditional ceremonial pewter ware declined, Yong Koon and his sons started making European style products for the British and other expatriates under the brand name of Selangor Pewter. This was an important turning point for the business and laid the foundation for an export market.

In 1979, the company received a royal warrant from the Sultan of Selangor. To reflect the royal endorsement and diverse nature of the company, Selangor Pewter then changed its name to Royal Selangor in 1992.

The tradition of craftsmanship continues through its workforce of 250 craftspeople based at its factory in Setapak, Kuala Lumpur. Keeping the legacy alive are the third and fourth generation members of the Yong family who are as passionate about pewter as they are about the brand.

PEWTER

Royal Selangor pewter consists of as much as 95% tin, with a small proportion of copper and antimony added to strengthen the alloy - the highest international standard for pewter. All tableware products produced are food safe as Royal Selangor pewter is lead free.

Pewter's unique characteristics, its low melting point and relative softness, makes it ideal for craftsmen and designers to work with. Loved for its versatility and feel, it can be fashioned in a variety of finishes - a traditional soft satin lustre, a dazzling brilliance that rivals silver or a subdued 'antique' finish.

Royal Selangor produces high quality cast pewter, which is heavier and stronger than spun pewter. When struck gently, it produces a resonant sound.

ERIK MAGNUSSEN OIL LAMPS

Erik Magnussen once again demonstrates his genius in interweaving form with function. This collection of oil lamps and tealight provide all the pleasures of lamplight without the messy maintenance.

Its durable fibreglass wicks do not need replacement unlike their natural fibre counterparts. The high polish pewter base reflects the warm glow of the flame, adding to the ambience. The tall glass lantern protects the flame from breezes, sweeping curtains, or wayward papers, making it perfect for indoor and outdoor use.

CUFFLINKS

The remaining cufflinks complement the range with their graphic shapes and abstract patterns, with designs borrowed from cut gems, or inspired by palm fronds and woven rattan. With most of the collection suitable for engraving, these stylish accessories become even more personalized with the addition of initials, crests or monograms.
